Self-care Workbook
The goal of this workbook is to support us in our journey towards mental and emotional well-being.
Psychoeducation refers to the process of educating those who use mental health services.

Psychoeducation can be:

- Giving a client information about a disorder or problem
- Developing problem-solving skills
- Developing coping skills to deal with stress
Self-Care Assessment

This assessment tool provides an overview of effective strategies to maintain self-care. After completing the full assessment, choose one item from each area that you will actively work to improve.

YOUR BODY WANTS TO FIGHT OR RUN AWAY. IT'S NOT SOMETHING YOU CHOOSE - THESE REACTIONS JUST TAKE OVER.

WINDOW OF TOLERANCE

WHERE YOU CAN HANDLE AND PROCESS YOUR FEELINGS IN A HEALTHY WAY WHILE BEING ABLE TO FUNCTION AND THRIVE!

STRESS AND TRAUMA CAN SHRINK YOUR WINDOW OF TOLERANCE.

MEDITATING, LISTENING TO MUSIC, OR ENGAGING IN HOBBIES CAN EXPAND YOUR WINDOW OF TOLERANCE.

HYPOAROUSAL
SPACY, ZONED OUT, NUMB, FROZEN

YOUR BODY WANTS TO SHUT DOWN. IT'S NOT SOMETHING YOU CHOOSE - THESE REACTIONS JUST TAKE OVER.
Close your eyes and direct your attention to your breathing.
Think about nothing but your breathing...
Let it flow in and out of your body.

Continue your attention on your breathing—Imagine that you have a balloon in your stomach. Every time you breathe in, the balloon inflates. Each time you breathe out, the balloon deflates. Your abdomen is rising with the in-breath and falling with the out-breath.

Continue to focus on your breath.

Start to notice the thoughts that come to your mind. As you notice each thought, imagine putting those words onto a leaf as it floats by on a nearby stream. Especially when you experience a(n) [enter client’s type of thought here] put each of those thoughts that you notice onto a leaf, and watch it drift on by.

There is no need to look for the thoughts or to remain alert waiting for them to come. Just let them come, and as they do, place them onto a leaf.

Your attention will wander, especially at first, and that is ok—it’s what our mind does. As soon as you notice your mind wandering, just gently bring your focus back to your thoughts, and back to placing those words onto the leaves.

When you feel ready, bring your attention back to your breathing.

When you are ready, open your eyes and become aware of your environment.
1. The change I'd like to make:

2. The steps I have to take to get there:

3. Additional skills or knowledge I need to be successful:

4. Additional resources or assistance I will need (and who I can use as my support network):

5. Milestones that will help measure progress and help hold me accountable
Flashback halting protocol reconciles experiencing self with observing self, (usually) quickly halting traumatic flashbacks.

Say the following sentences filling in the blanks, following the instructions:

"Right now I am feeling ______, (name the current emotion, usually fear)

and I am sensing in my body ______, (describe current bodily sensations in detail),

because I am remembering ______.
(name the trauma by title, only — no details).

And, at the same time, I am looking around where I am now in ______ (say the year),

here ______,
(name the place where you are)

and I can see ______,
(describe some of the things that you see right now, in this place),

and so I know ______,
(name the trauma again)

is not happening now/anymore.”

Attention: When you feel distressed, stop doing what you are doing and pay attention to your inner dialogue.

Believe?: Do not automatically believe your thoughts.

Challenge: Defuse anxiety by broadening your focus. What’s the bigger picture? Is the thought fact or opinion? What might you think if you were feeling calmer?

Discount: Acknowledge that anxiety is dominating your thinking and let the unhelpful thoughts go.

Explore options: What would be helpful to focus on right now? What options do I have available?
The Cognitive Triangle

THOUGHTS
- Words you tell yourself
- Internal dialogue
- Ex: I am never going to be good enough

TRIGGERING EVENT

BEHAVIORS
- Your actions
- What you do
- Ex: Procrastinate, compare yourself to others, avoid

EMOTIONS
- How you feel
- Ex: Frustrated, hopeless, sad
You can also practice deep breathing exercises standing e.g. while sitting in traffic, or standing in a lineup at the grocery store. If you are really tense and feel as if you are holding your breath, simply concentrate on slowly breathing in and out.
WRITE A LETTER TO A PERSON WHOM YOU VALUE IN YOUR LIFE AND FEEL COMFORTABLE EXPRESSING YOURSELF TO.

IN THE LETTER, DISCUSS ALL OF THE THOUGHTS AND EMOTIONS YOU ARE CURRENTLY HAVING.

PLACE YOUR FEET ON THE GROUND AND IN YOUR IMAGINATION, PICK YOUR FAVORITE COLOR. USING THE COLOR, DRAW AN OUTLINE OF EACH FOOT. START AT THE HEEL, THEN SLOWLY GO UP THE SIDE OF YOUR FOOT TO THE PINKY TOE. THEN, DRAW AROUND EACH TOE AND THEN GO BACK TOWARDS THE HEEL. REPEAT ON THE OTHER FOOT.

ENGAGE IN AN EXERCISE THAT REQUIRES THE FLOW OF REPETITIVE MOVEMENT. EXAMPLES INCLUDE WALKING OR RUNNING IN PLACE, DANCING TO YOUR FAVORITE SONG, DOING JUMPING JACKS.

SIT COMFORTABLY, CLOSE YOUR EYES AND TAKE A COUPLE OF DEEP BREATHS. IN THROUGH YOUR NOSE (COUNT OF 3) AND OUT THROUGH YOUR MOUTH (COUNT OF 3). NOW OPEN YOUR EYES, LOOK AT THE SPACE AROUND YOU AND NAME OUT LOUD:

5 THINGS YOU CAN SEE
4 THINGS YOU CAN FEEL
3 THINGS YOU CAN HEAR
2 THINGS YOU CAN SMELL
1 THING YOU CAN TASTE
