

Sakhi for South Asian Women

Our Impact in 2022

An Unprecedented Response to an Unprecedented Moment

2022 was one of the most regressive years for gender equality in modern US history. We confronted this unprecedented moment by expanding our work by record numbers. We are pleased to share with you highlights of our impact this year.

We are deepening our roots

1,850

By the end of the year, we are projected to receive over 1,850 helpline calls, a 24% increase from last year. Sakhi's helpline is NYC's only gender-based violence helpline staffed by speakers of South Asian languages.

Advocacy is multifaceted

survivors, starting at six years old, will have worked with Sakhi— a 35% increase from 2021. We have engaged in personal advocacy with survivors in eight South Asian languages. This includes but is not limited to: crisis management, access to legal services & public benefits, food, housing & financial security, and mental health counseling.

"Sakhi has been my guardian angel since I arrived in New York and has helped me come back on my feet."

Housing is key to safety

$700,000

will have been furnished to survivors in rental assistance for safe, independent housing. 73 survivors worked with Sakhi to find safe housing. 48 survivors received rental assistance, and of those, nine now fully support themselves.

"In the two years that Sakhi helped me with rent, I have saved so much money that I can close my eyes and pay rent for the rest of my life!"

Disrupting the cycle of violence

88

of the 700 survivors we work with are youth who will have participated in Sakhi's Youth Empowerment Program by the end of the year.

Economic justice is gender justice

147

survivors will have participated in our Economic Empowerment program.

Food justice is a basic right

85

survivors will have made 250 trips to one of our Food Justice Program locations stocked with culturally and nutritionally appropriate food.

Healing requires care

145

survivors will have participated in our trauma-informed and culturally affirming counseling programs— a 50% increase from 2021.

"You were able to help me make sense of a lot of situations that have happened, and most importantly you made me realize that the abuse was not my fault."

Sakhi is survivor-centered

$25,000

will have been distributed to individuals experiencing crisis. These funds promote safety by meeting basic needs.

Expanding Our Capacity to Serve the Community

A 24% increase in expenses between FY 2021 and FY 2022 attests to the expansion of our services to survivors of gender-based violence. A 10% increase in income attests to the robust support Sakhi has received from supporters like you.
